CLEARFIELD, PENNSYLVANIA, TUESDAY EVENING, AUGUST, 7, 1917

TIME TABLE WAS MISLEADING TO PATRONS

Mixed Train Not Taken Off The River Line As Was Stated By Counsel For Company

SERVICE STILL UNIMPROVED

We want to take back the good things we said Saturday concerning the New York Central management. They were undeserved because the person or persons responsible for the train and train schedules on the Pennsylvania division are doing and have done but few things recently that would or should commend them to right-thinking people.

When their attorney appeared in the Progress office Saturday with a schedule or time table to be posted for public information, we believed and we think he believed that the time table was telling the truth and really represented that the management had decided to rectify the error they made when they took the River Line passenger train out of service and put in its stead a "mixed train."

When Monday morning arrived and thirty-seven passengers presented themselves at the local station to take the River Line passenger train the same old "Kaiser's special" or mixed train rolled into the station and departed with its load of human freight and possibly gasoline and dynamite enough ahead of them to blow or broil them into kingdom come.

Taking advantage of the necessities of the nation due to war, the New York Central which has long awaited the opportunity, ripped passenger trains right and left and as a result a wall is going up all along the line, because the people "made to suffer realize that the drastic disruption of passenger traffic is not due in the slightest measure to patriotic motives, but to their inordinate greed for gain. Nowhere on their lines is this more apparent than on the River Line.

The putting on of the mixed train does not save a single traincrew because the regular freight crew is necessary to handle the freight and coal business and consequently there can be saving of train crews incident to the change. But the substituting of the mixed train adds greatly to the earning capacity of the road while it adds almost unlimited danger to life and limb to the passenger forced to travel on this train. The reason for hooking a car or two of freight in front of the two passenger coaches on this mixed train is not to afford better freight service to the down river people. Oh, no. As these people understand the N. Y. C. the matter of proper service is farthest from their thoughts. Here is the milk in the coconut. With a straight passenger train American railway rules provide that the passenger must have a clear block. For instance before the passenger train proceeds it must have cleared the block ahead or in common parlance reached a side track or layover, in order to insure safety to the passengers traveling the intervening distance. The same is true of a train following it. In case the train preceding could not clear the block or a given side track or passing point, then it would have to lay up until the passenger train ran by before continuing its journey. As we said before this wise precaution is taken to avoid possible collisions and attendant loss of life.

With the mixed train this is different. Passengers are not supposed to ride on one if they can get away from it, and never do, except on the River Line where no other is available. The "mixed train" is regarded as a freight train and the human freight is regarded as just "freight" and a freight or coal train is allowed to and does cut in around them at every opportunity. Of course, as inevitably happens, a freight train will endeavor to pass it upon the same track and the Conductor will then be asked to place the blame on the engineer who missed his signals. That has been the history of all mixed trains, and we very much fear, with the enormous traffic on the River line, soon to be augmented by the large tonnage to be received from the C. & I. via Cherrytree, will be the sad lesson of the River Line.

MARINES GOING TO BE SHELLED IN TRENCHES

Those Who Landed in France Being Put Through Training With Gas Masks

"STARVING FOR TOBACCO"

(United Press Staff Correspondent) By J. P. Pegler

At American army Headquarters in France, Aug. 7.—American marines are going to be shelled. French and not German guns will hurl projectiles upon the soldiers of the sea. Digouts are being constructed today in which the marines will be ensconced and then the French will shell them from a hill. It will be a "practice bombardment" and part of the preliminary training. After the marines and Sammies have been shelled upon they will be "dead." American gas experts have arrived and will superintend the "gassing" of the Sammies. After donning gas masks they will enter chambers charged with gas and remain for a considerable time so as to become accustomed to the gas the Germans will let loose on them later.

Among the blue helmeted marines standing shoulder deep in a trench on the top of a sun scorched hill an American general personally tested the rifles and grenades today. From a distance of 100 yards I watched marines toss grenades in practice work. And in the distance I could hear a rumbling noise like that of artillery fire. Another battalion was practicing grenade work there, an officer said.

Lunching and talking with the Sammies it was quickly learned that they are "still starving" for tobacco. Some of the boys have frequently paid $1 for a pack of cigarettes and have paid $1 a bag for tobacco for "making."

Four Prisoners Got Away From Rockview

Red Davis, Former Ball Player, Here On Search For Them

Three prisoners escaped from the western penitentiary at Rockview, near Bellefonte, Friday last, and one also took French leave yesterday afternoon. The three first to get away were Americans and had been sent up from Beaver and Butler counties. The one who escaped yesterday was an Italian.

Messrs. E. R. Schraum and Elmer Davis, officers from the penitentiary, were in Clearfield last night on the lookout for the men. They had followed the thorough Centre county but lost track of them at the Summit, near Sandy Ridge.

They were thought to be heading this way but the officers with the assistance of Sheriff McCloskey and the local police, were unable to locate them.

Davis, who is the electrician in charge of the operation of the electric chair at the "pen," is an old time Clearfield ball player, having come over here from Punxsy and helped Manager Beamer's team out several times back in 1900. He is a rabid baseball bug yet and found time to say hello to several old friends while here.

Mrs. C. C. McGaughey, Miss Buelah McCordle, Mrs. H. F. Ferguson and son Robert left this morning in Mrs. McGaughey's car for Syracuse, N. Y. to visit David Ferguson, who is a member of Co. L, 49th Inf.

American Battleship In Smoke Screen to Hide From U-Boats

The ships of the Atlantic Fleet, which have been mobilized since the declaration of the war, have begun to use the smoke screen, developed some months ago in England, to hide them from submarines. This photograph shows a big ship of the fleet throwing out the soft smoke so a submarine would find it impossible to locate her.

MAN KILLED WIFE AND HIMSELF AT DUBOIS

Jealousy Believed to Have Been Cause of Tragedy Which Ends a Long Standing Quarrel

HOMEWRECKER IS MENTIONED

William Sloppy, a well-known resident of Dubois, instantly killed his wife and inflicted a wound upon himself that resulted in his death a few minutes afterward. The double tragedy occurred at the Sloppy home at 123 Park avenue shortly before 10 o'clock last night. As far as could be ascertained by the investigation that followed there was no reason for the crime. It is believed, however, that the dead man had been jealous of his wife and determined to shoot her. Undoubtedly he had made up his mind to shoot her and also kill himself as neighbors state that there was no hesitation between the three.

The following letter was found on the dead man:

"I am the man that broke up my home. I am tired of life. I am saying goodbye to my children. I am going to take her with me. He has a good wife and I don't want to hurt her. Good-bye to everyone."

W. A. SLOPPY.

shots that they heard. The one shot killed Mrs. Sloppy instantly and either of the two shots that Mr. Sloppy fired into his head would have resulted in his death. It is stated that the dead man had been drinking during the afternoon, but everyone united in stating that he was not intoxicated. People who talked with him an hour before the tragedy stated that he did not appear to be excited, neither was he intoxicated and gave no intimation of the terrible deed that he was contemplating. Mr. Sloppy had not been living with his wife for several weeks. Last evening Mrs. Sloppy was sitting on the front porch of her home, talking to Mrs. James Hilton, a nearby neighbor. While the two were sitting there Mr. Sloppy came from East Park avenue evidently having come down Church. He walked past Mrs. Sloppy sitting on the porch, but did not speak. Shortly after he came Mrs. Sloppy said to Mrs. Hilton that Mrs. Sloppy said to Mrs. Hilton that she was going in and put on her shoes and would then go down town to look for her daughter, Adeline. She went into the house and very shortly afterwards Mrs. Hilton heard three shots and screams from Mrs. Sloppy.

Frank Waite, who lives next door on the west side, stated that he heard three shots in the Sloppy home. He also heard Mrs. Sloppy screaming and could not distinguish the words. He heard something like two bodies falling. He opened the door and saw the body of Mrs. Sloppy on the floor. He at once

GERMAN AERIAL SHIPS PROVE DEFECTIVE

Hazel in Turning Out Engines of War Has Resulted in Colossal Losses to German Air Force

OBJECT LESSON FOR THE U. S.

By William Philip Simms.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
With the British "Armies in the Field, July 10.—By Mail.—There's a lesson to the United States not to make haste too precipitately, in recent air battles here. The structural defects of German aircraft have been strongly illustrated of late. They were of machines hurriedly built as a result of Germany's "speeding up" of aeroplane construction. Now that America is going to hustle up and build great fleets of such craft she will do well to note some of the results of too much speed and not enough precaution.

In one week recently seven German planes were seen literally to break up in the air, the pilots and observers being hurled to the earth below. These accidents were unmistakably the result of faulty construction. Two other Prussian biplanes suddenly burst into flames in the view of British fighters—for no accountable reason.

Moreover, the new German planes are exceedingly vulnerable, probably due to faulty material and rush work. One British lieutenant the other day fired 40 rounds at 25 yards range and broke the German's wings clear off. Another British fighter turned his machine gun fire at the tail of one of fifteen Prussian machines, from a distance of 60 yards. The Boche's tail slid clear off and the machine crashed to earth.

On the same day as this last incident, five British flyers attacked a fleet of Albatross scouts among the clouds. The fighters got separated shortly in the fleecy clouds and then it was every man for himself. One British captain, after driving off three Germans hit in a cloud and awaited the fourth, whom he saw approaching. At the correct moment, the Britisher dived out, got below his enemy, and fired 58 shots. He broke the German plane completely in two.

On the following day a British air-fighter, battling with nine planes, broke one into several pieces with a few shots, and then saw two other of his enemies burst into flames. One fell, like a comet, the second burned slowly. On this second one the pilot, unable to bear the agony of the fire, leaped out. The observer, left with a pilotless machine, crawled out along the fuselage, but fell off as the plane reared and plunged.

Once again, six British flyers attacked twelve enemy planes. One of the German machines burst into flames. One fell, like a comet, the second burned slowly. On this second one the pilot, unable to bear the agony of the fire, leaped out. The observer, left with a pilotless ma-

BORO. SCHOOLS TO BE OPENED SEPT. 4

Vaccination Required and Should Be Done Before Opening of Term And In Plenty of Time

EXAMINATIONS AUGUST 27TH

The Public Schools of Clearfield will begin for the school year 1917-1918 Tuesday, September 4th.

The law requires all pupils who attend the public school to have been successfully vaccinated. Pupils who expect to attend the public school this year and have not been successfully vaccinated should be vaccinated at once. It is neither fair to the child nor the school to have the child experience the inconvenience incident to vaccination at the same time they are becoming accustomed to the new and changed conditions of school life. A child's first experience in school should be under the most favorable conditions.

Children who will be six years old before March 1st will be admitted September 4th. It is a decided disadvantage to the child to have it admitted for the first time after the holidays.

The 1st Grade for the 1st and 2nd Wards will be located in the Junior High School Building. (Old High School Building.)

An examination will be conducted in the High School Building, Friday, August 31st, 8:30 a.m., for pupils desiring credit for advanced work, for pupils who wish credit for "make up work" and for boys and girls who do not live in Clearfield and who expect to enter the High School this year. All persons expecting to take an examination at this time must advise the superintendent not later than Monday, Aug. 27th. Make known your intention by postal.

A county diploma will not admit pupils to the Clearfield High School. A-7, 14.

chine, crawled out along the fuselage, but fell off as the plane reared and plunged.

Once again, six British flyers attacked twelve enemy planes. One of the German machines burst into flames, one was crumpled by gunfire, and another just simply collapsed after 18 rounds of fire.

The moral is that Americans will need the best machines and their best men against the Germans. Even then it would be foolhardy to expect a walkover.

Right now the German high command is grouping his flyers, aware of the British aerial supremacy, just as a year ago he grouped artillery into traveling "circuses." The idea is that since the Germans are unable to maintain equality to the air everywhere along the front, they can concentrate a flying "circus" at some weak spot or at some place in the line which is threatened.

WILSON SPEEDS UP THE FEDERAL TRADE BODY

Wants More Speed in Fixing Prices To Be Charged For Necessities For Allies

DROPS IN ON BOARD MEETING

(By United Press)

Washington, August 7.—President Wilson today urged the Federal Trade commission to speed up upon determining the cost upon which the government is to fix prices on raw material. The President declared the allies are not to be gouged in war purchases. Steel, iron, coke, tin, copper, aluminum, lead, lumber, cement and petroleum await investigation of the commission. The President walked into the commission's office in the White House during a board meeting. In reply to the question as to the speed of the Trade Commission's investigation he was told that the work was going along rapidly and that the copper report would be ready within two weeks. He then went to the Justice department where he conferred with Attorney General Gregory. It is understood that the question of the government's investigation of the recent steel trust was discussed. The present need of supplies by the allies was evidenced in an order transmitted by Secretary Daniels through Secretary Redfield today calling upon all European ships leaving the United States ports on round trips to European ports to purchase sufficient supplies in this country for the return voyage. It was stated the purpose of the order was to save the warring countries all necessary supplies. The Senate was bitterly attacked by John Sharp Williams today when he said "anti-Americans of a small group" are holding up the food bill. "This gab fest amounts to nothing," Sharp declared.

In their investigations the allies discovered a naval intelligence base of the waters surrounding the Azores, Lajes and the North Sea. The area on the map was divided into small squares, each one numbered. An elaborate code was also found for use in conjunction with this map.

Messages based on this code, after apparently reading like private telegrams, could in reality be deciphered into accurate descriptions of Allied warships or of belligerent or neutral merchantmen.

From the spy headquarters in Gothenburg, agents were sent to Scandinavian ports and attempts were made whether successful or not, to get them into England. These agents were supplied with the code and map mentioned and were reporting to headquarters in Gothenburg. The headquarters in Gothenburg communicated the information to German submarines at sea, probably by wireless stations hidden along the coast. One of the chief branches of the Gothenburg office was in Christiania and a Norwegian was actually engaged there to go to England on the espionage service, being supplied with the code and map in addition to a process of invisible ink writing for mail reports. Another branch was in Malmö, Sweden. It is believed that many of the agents of the German spies in Gothenburg were Scandinavians. At about the same time of the discovery of the Gothenburg office, a German giving the name of Klein was arrested in Sweden, charged with a plot to murder British Ambassador Buchanan in Petrograd. Klein was afterward released but deported from Sweden.

Important Arrest Made at Osceola on Friday

Capture Man Who is Accused of Stealing Cattle From Pastures

Honore or "Hod" Heeman, one of the notorious Heeman family, was arrested at his home near Osceola by County Detective Jeffrey on Friday last charged with stealing two cows from the vicinity of Houtzdale.

It is said that a gang of cattle stealers, of which Heeman is alleged to have been the leader, have been operating in the Houtzdale region all summer and during that time ten or a dozen valuable cows have disappeared.

About May 30th a cow belonging to Charles Freeberg, valued at $80, and another valued at $60 the property of A. J. Johnson, was taken from the commons where they were pastured and driven from there across the mountain to Altoona where they were disposed of. The cows were traced to Altoona by the County Detective who learned that a man answering to Heeman's description had disposed of them and his arrest followed. The information was made before "Squire Scollins of Houtzdale."

It is said that there are three other men in the gang of cattle rustlers, one of whom is a negro, and their arrests are expected at any minute although they have been missing from their accustomed haunts for some time.

CHRISTIAN SCHNEIDER BURNED TO DEATH

The man who lost his life when his coal bank shanty was destroyed by fire at Heverly, near Coalport, at an early hour yesterday morning, was named Christian Schneider and he was 52 years of age.

It was said that he had been drinking heavily the night before and at 2 o'clock in the morning a neighbor, noticing the shanty to be on fire, went to the scene and broke down the door, but was driven back by the flames before he could make any effort to rescue the occupant, and his body was totally consumed.

No suspicion of fool play was entertained and the coroner's verdict said accidental death.

LOCATE GERMAN SPYING OFF IN SWEDEN

Police of Scandinavian Countries Co-operate With Allied Secret Services in Unpartying

HAD MANY BRANCH OFFICES

By Arthur E. Mann

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Stockholm, July 11.—(By Mail)—Allied secret service and intelligence officers, with the cooperation of the police of the Scandinavian countries, have recently discovered that the German spy system had many branch offices in Sweden.

In their investigations the allies discovered a naval intelligence base of the waters surrounding the Azores, Lajes and the North Sea. The area on the map was divided into small squares, each one numbered. An elaborate code was also found for use in conjunction with this map.

Messages based on this code, after apparently reading like private telegrams, could in reality be deciphered into accurate descriptions of Allied warships or of belligerent or neutral merchantmen.

MISS RANKIN INTRODUCES JOINT RESOLUTION

Washington, Aug. 7.—A joint resolution authorizing the President to take over and operate the metal mines was introduced in the House today by Miss Jeannette Rankin. The resolution particularly applies to the mines in Arizona, Montana and Idaho. These mines are not being operated to the capacity they should be to meet the demands of the war. The laborers and the mine owners cannot agree.

Believe Fates Brought Recent Cabinet Change

German People Disillusioned With The New Imperial Cabinet

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

By John Grandson

Berlin, Aug. 7.—Open dissatisfaction with the new cabinet was expressed by the liberal press today. The Tageblatt declared that the people had been given no choice in the new government.

The representatives of the people had no influence in the cabinet appointment, the Tageblatt declared. Germans received the new government as a gift from above. The great German people have no direct or indirect influence in the selection of their managers. They have no power and no responsibility. They are exposed to the strokes of fate.

GOING UP!

A mile in twenty-five seconds! An automobile of two hundred and sixty-five horsepower, with flying machine engine, went at that rate of speed—about one hundred and thirty miles an hour. Human beings now living will travel in the air at the rate of one thousand miles an hour, going around the earth in one day and one night, with the sun always above their heads. Dutiful sons will leave the office to lunch with mother, five hundred miles away, and return to work.

Six miles up in the air there are no storms and a gentle wind always blows toward the east. Up there will be the road of future travel.—(Selected.)

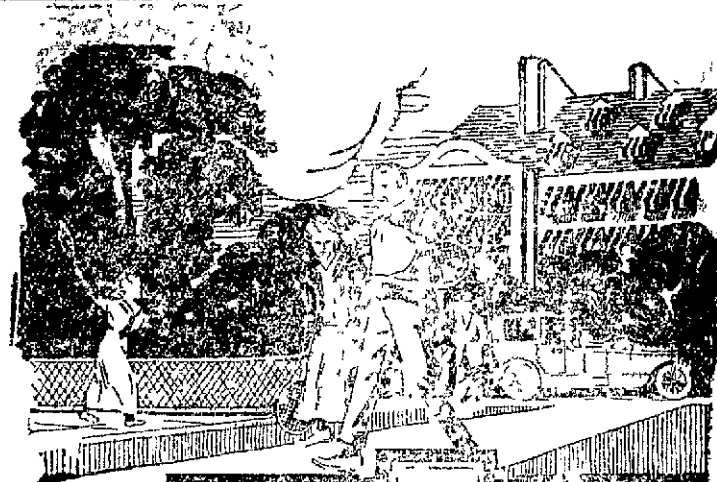

Will the editor of the DuBois Courier kindly keep his coat on? It is true that we take unusual delight in teasing anybody who gets a little ruffled during the process. No one can deny that "cold feet" is a large factor in exemption claims and is a physical disability which deserves to be called by its right name. We do not believe there is any more of it in DuBois than in any other district and the Courier may be right in its guess that there will be more of it in Clearfield than there has been in DuBois. Now as for the "sob stuff" part of the story. That part about wives and children of drafted men going to DuBois with their husbands and fathers, this information came to us from one of the most representative citizens of DuBois and was recited before a large audience in the Clearfield Court House.

SCRAPPED

Dr. Batocki, the wizard who, we have been told, was controlling the German food supplies in such effective manner that if everybody was not satisfied all were nourished at least, has been cast aside along with Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, foreign secretary, whose blundering has been the worst exhibition of German statesmanship during the war, and seven other ministers and secretaries. Evidently things are not going well for the Mittelluropa schemers. Serviceable cogs and wheels are not scrapped. So the official announcement of the resignations of this considerable number of subordinates in the imperial machine is notice that Berlin finds it necessary to do better or lose all. Zimmerman, of course, was sure to go since exposure of his bungling the Mexico-Japan project of madness. Batocki was led to the top of the toboggan some days ago. As a wonder worker he was not a success, which may not be and probably is not his fault at all. Appointed ministers may propose big crops but a Higher Power determines what the harvest shall be. If there is not food to conserve, mortal man cannot conserve it. Batocki has not succeeded in feeding the German people, unquestionably because there is not sufficient wherewith to feed them.

As to most of the offices vacated, they have no connection with the international situation. The administrative functions of their occupants are domestic. The clean-up no doubt is a part of the scheme of "reform" with which the Kaiser and the Chancellor hope to beguile the German people to bear a while longer with the hopeless war. It will be represented that the changes are in response to the demand for closer relations between crown and people and indicate the Emperor's yielding. For a time clamorings may be stilled. But if the system is not changed there is no virtue in a change of men. Perhaps the men scrapped were no longer acceptable to the Kaiser, because not in complete harmony with the war party. If that is so, their successors will assuredly not be in accord with the people who disapprove what is being done and what is sought to be gained by the war. Then there will be no gain for the people and clamorings will break out afresh. But there is no reason to believe that will disturb the Kaiser. His people have not yet sensed the duty before them if they would have peace without victory, which latter they cannot have. When they comprehend the truth they will be in the scrapping and it is the Kaiser and his gang that will go into the junk pile.

telephoned the Logan House. Roy Sloppy, aged 18 years, a son, was at the Logan House and he turned home. He found the bodies of his parents lying on the floor in the parlor. His mother was lying with her feet partly out in the hallway, while his father's body was only a few feet away. He, however, who had been summoned, came about the same time. He found that Mrs. Sloppy was dead and that Mr. Sloppy was just breathing his last. He was unconscious and of course made no statement.

The Sloppy family has resided in DuBois for many years. Mrs. Sloppy was formerly Bessie Boring. Until recently it was not known that they had any trouble. Neighbors stated that Mrs. Sloppy was a hard working woman and only yesterday had done three washings. They have three children, two sons and one daughter. The older boy, Raymond, is in the navy. Roy, aged 18 years, is at home. He was present last evening and sobbed pitifully as he lay beside his dead mother. The daughter is fifteen years of age.

Gov. Hanley Received Fine Support Here

Audience Which Attended His Talk Gave Him Over $100 To Work On

When Governor Hanley of Indiana was here on June 14th in the interest of the Flying Squadron there was a collection taken from the audience present to help carry on the work of state and national prohibition. Those who were present at that meeting will be surprised to know that the results of the collection taken were as follows:

Cash $154.48
Pledges $270.30
A total of $130.78 from that one audience

The general secretary has written a letter to R. M. Corbett, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. requesting him to publicly thank the people of Clearfield for their generous support.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat which clogs Kidneys, then the Back hurts

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally. Also we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Business men must have a bank that is, at all times, able to lead them their needs.

The County National Bank keeps its funds in such shape that it is always in a position to make advances to its customers as required.

The borrowing ability of any customer up to the limit set by the banking laws is determined only by his worthiness of credit, and the value of his account to the bank.

An efficient railroad is the greatest industrial asset a community or state can possess.

It is the foundation of the whole industrial structure.

The far-reaching fingers of transportation touch field, mine and factory and galvanize them into life.

Business would cease to move and the world would be paralyzed but for the life-giving throb of the railroad.

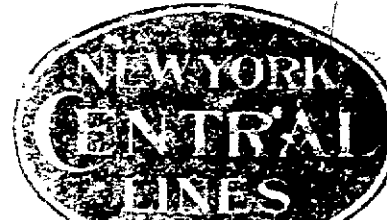

The New York Central Lines

"America's Greatest Railway System"

operating over 12,000 miles of railway in the most populous section of the United States, employing nearly 200,000 men and equipped with modern motive power and facilities for the safe and efficient handling of passengers and freight, are essential to the prosperity of the country and the world.

To continue to render the public the most efficient service demands constant expenditure of money and capital, for a railroad is never finished except in the eyes of the public.

The necessary funds must be secured by competition with the public. The government sees to it that the railroad is financed in such a way that will provide a fair return and that regulation is consistent with the public interest. Securities attract new capital.

Altogether five imperial ministers and five Prussian ministers have resigned. The changes in the Imperial ministry additional to the appointment of Doctor von Kuehlmann are as follows:

Privy Councillor von Krause appointed Secretary of Justice to succeed Doctor Lisso.

Herr Duellin, minister of posts and director of railways, to succeed Herr Kraetke.

Oberräsident von Walldow president of food regulation board, to succeed Arnold Wahschaff.

The ministry of economics will ultimately be separated from the ministry of the interior and Herr Walldow, Mayor of Cologne will be appointed minister of the interior and Herr Schwander, Mayor of Strassburg, minister of economics, with the titles of excellency.

Dr. Karl von Helldorff will remain Vice-Chancellor and serve as a member of the ministry of state and temporary minister of the interior.

Doctor Richter, under secretary of the Imperial home office also resigned his post.

The following changes in the royal Prussian Ministry have been made:

Dr. Peter Spahn, leader of the Catholic center, succeeds as minister of justice, Dr. Bescher, who was appointed in 1905.

Under Secretary Drews is appointed Minister of the Interior, to succeed Herr von Loebell, who has held office since 1914.

GOMPERTS SAYS LABOR MUST BEAT GERMANS

Should Help Government Crush or Compel Surrender of Kaiserism He Asserts

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 6.—"The working people of Germany are doing all that they can to help their government to win the war. The working people of this country should do the same to help their government."

This assertion was made by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who spent a short time in Wilmington today after having motored from Washington for a brief rest. In telling why American labor people would send no delegates to Stockholm he said:

"It is impractical and positively injurious for any conference of the representatives of labor to be held in which delegates from all countries would be present. As I said in my cable to Johnaux and Appleton, something more favorable must develop before such a conference is practical. I had in mind that the Kaiser and Prussianism must be crushed, or that Kaiserism and Prussianism should surrender to the democracy and the civilization of the world."

RANKS OPENED TO THE FRIENDLY NON-CITIZENS

First Papers Not Necessary for Qualification, Crowder Says

Washington, Aug. 6.—The ranks of the new National Army were opened formally today to friendly aliens as volunteers. A ruling by Provost Marshal Gen. Crowder communicated to the local selection boards directs that all such aliens who waive their rights of exemption of nationality be promptly accepted for service.

Gen. Crowder sent this telegram to the governors:

"Reports reaching this office recently indicate that in some quarters the belief prevails that friendly aliens who have not declared their intention to become citizens, but are ready and willing to serve are disqualified from entering the military service of the United States and therefore that they must take out first papers before they can be accepted. It is to be regretted that such a misunderstanding should have arisen. The qualifications for voluntary enlistment in time of war are no more restricted for service in the new National army than for the regular army."

Wagon Loaders to Have Their Inning Tomorrow

Local Men to Attend Hearing at The National Capital

Johnstown, Aug. 6.—When the delegation representing the Pennsylvania Wagon Coal Shippers' Association appears in Washington Wednesday to voice to Secretary Baker its protest against a threatened cutting off of the car supply to those loading from wagons, a array of figures will be presented that will be interesting to say the least, and will show the number of mine operations, men employed, production and valuation represented by industries of this nature, together with the percentage of total coal produced, hauled from mine to siding and loaded on cars, the cost of such loading and the time required to fill a car. But the principal item of interest will be the testimony presented before the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission for a fair car service and the testimony to Attorney Charles C. Greer of this city at a recent hearing in Washington before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce, when Mr. Greer, as a voluntary witness, refuted the evidence of a Federal expert and others as to time consumed in the wagon-loading of coal cars for that purpose.

Those who will go to Washington tomorrow to make the appeal to Secretary Baker are: President, D. W. Anderson, Clearfield; treasurer, J. W. Rankin, Clymer; M. Lee Titus, Point Marion; attorney, A. M. Liveright, Clearfield; secretary, Charles C. Greer, Johnstown, and Attorney James M. Bacon, Greensburg.

Girls! Use Lemons! Make a Bleaching, Beautifying Cream

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smootheners and beautifier. Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is simply marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.

Alleged Dead Body Cannot Be Located

Coalport Agitated Over Alleged Discovery of Dead Man in Woods

There has been considerable excitement or speculation in the Coalport neighborhood the past week over the finding or alleged finding of a dead man in a piece of woodland adjacent to the town. The story goes that on Wednesday of last week, two boys who went out picking huckleberries ran onto the dead body of a man in the woods. The body was lying on a large rock and from the brief examination of the boys appeared to be that of a one armed man.

The boys hurried breathlessly to town and notified the authorities of their gruesome discovery.

Undertaker Gordon called up the district attorney and County Coroner Pollum and presented the case to them. He was advised to go out, get the body and make investigation as to the surroundings and circumstances. Mr. Gordon rounded up a crew of about one dozen men and started for the body. They searched for hours but were unable to locate the alleged corpse, the boys trying again and again to locate the spot of their alleged discovery.

After wasting the better part of a day in the search the men were compelled to return without having accomplished the object of their search. Since that time there have been almost daily excursions into the woods but thus far the corpse delicti refuses to be discovered and the village gossip is unable to decide whether it was a murder, suicide or just plain giving up the ghost.

Clearfield Marine Has Landed In France

Bulletin From Marine Corps Recalls Enlistment of John Shade

Among the "First to Fight" Marines who have gone to France is John L. Shade, a Private of the Headquarters Company, U. S. M. C., according to records just made public.

Private Shade, who is the son of Mrs. J. Shade, 515 Fifth street, Clearfield, and whom many of our readers are acquainted with, enlisted in the United States Marine Corps at its Cleveland, Ohio recruiting station April 30, 1917.

He has displayed such marked ability and daring that he was among the first to be chosen to "do his bit" over seas. The Marines who have been selected to represent their country first in the war for democracy are proud of the recognition bestowed upon them and they go with the best wishes of the entire nation.

Our readers may well be proud of the local boy and wish him the best of success as a U. S. Marine—one who is willing to die, if necessary, to uphold the honor of his home and country.

"IT SAVED MY LIFE" SHE SAYS

Pittsburg Woman Now Attributes Her Recovery To Master Medicine

"This Tanlac has relieved me of that dreadful catarrh," said Mrs. Florence Bennett, residing at 429 Atwood street, Pittsburg, Pa., recently, "and now I feel like an entirely new woman. I had catarrh of the stomach and head. My head was all stopped up, feeling full and sore most of the time. I am certain that I swallowed the accumulations in my throat when I slept at night, as I never had any appetite for breakfast.

"I was in a terribly debilitated condition, too. It seemed that I had almost no blood circulation. I suffered intensely from headaches and my sleep never was sound and restful. I was nervous and languid and lacked energy.

"My head became clearer and I noticed that my catarrh was fast disappearing. My appetite became so ravenous that it was difficult to satisfy it. I began sleeping peacefully and my sleep is now restful and beneficial. I have gained strength and weight rapidly. My headaches have gone, and the circulation of my blood is now normal."

Tanlac is now sold here by Woodward & McPherson.

Battle Front Train of Kaiser Is Protected

Heavily Sheathed With Armor And Equipped With Every Luxury

Amsterdam, Aug. 7.—While the German imperial family is reported to have made great sacrifices in their mode of living on account of the war, the Kaiser certainly has abandoned none of the luxuries associated with his high station when he is on his travels. The special train in which he makes his hurried visits from the Grand headquarters to Berlin or to his conferences in Vienna is one of the most sumptuous imaginable. The train consists of six coaches, each weighing over sixty tons. Four coaches are reserved for the Kaiser and his suite, and the other two are used for kitchens. The second coach in the train is the one reserved by the Kaiser for his personal quarters, and it contains a salon, bedroom, dressing room, bath room, and sleeping apartments for his body guard. The windows of this coach are protected by thick steel bars, and armed sentries stand at the doors night and day. The roof is sheathed in heavy steel armor as a protection against bombs that might be dropped by daring aviators of the enemy.

Across The Continent In A Little Old Ford

From Tacoma Wash., to Clearfield, Pa., in Fine Shape

Ernest Miller and his family left Monday for their faraway home in Tacoma, Washington, after having spent a pleasant three weeks vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eory Miller in Paradise.

The Millers made the trip across the continent in a Ford car leaving home on June 6th. They visited the Yellowstone National Park and enjoyed the long trip immensely.

While going through Yellowstone Park they had the misfortune to lose a brand new tire, but just before coming out of the state of Idaho found a new tire, rim and all, in the road and as they could not locate the owner along their route brought their find along to Clearfield and swapped it here for one to fit their machine.

The "Tin Lizzie" stood up remarkably well under the strain of the long trip, the only thing being required for the return journey being a set of new tires.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Selfridge of Los Angeles, California, arrived in Clearfield August 2 to visit their friends and relatives. They have made their home in the far west the past four years. Mr. Selfridge is a brother of Mrs. Perry Rishel of Elymptonville.

Mr. Oscar W. Schaeffer and three sons, of Galesburg, Illinois, arrived in Clearfield this morning and will be the guests of her parents, Prof. and Mrs. J. Clark Thayer at the Susquehanna College of Music for some time.

"WORLD AGAINST HIM"

At the Globe Theatre Tomorrow
You have three guesses as to what breed these dogs are. Nope, you're wrong. Wrong again! Wrong the third time!

"They are Siberian dachshunds," said Miss Elvidge, when asked to give her opinion about the matter.

"I'll be winning to put up a small wager that they are some kind of brand of animated fur muff," declared Frank Hall Crane, who directed "The World Against Him."

"They are a new species of the well known fuzzy-wuzzy, or long-haired pug dogs," insisted the World Film publicity man.

"You're all wrong!" yelled an "extra" managing to make himself heard above the din. "They're fox terriers what have been tarred and feathered."

"What kind of dogs are they, anyhow, Mr. Lincoln?"

"I'll tell you" responded Lincoln cheerfully. "They're chow dogs with pedigrees."

RIVERVIEW GIRL DEAD

Little Florence Uncles, aged 12 years, of Riverview, passed away at the Clearfield hospital at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, following an operation for a diseased limb.

Some time ago the little girl bruised her limb and as the injury did not respond to treatment she was taken to the hospital Monday afternoon when it was discovered the only hope of saving her life lie in an operation.

Sarcoma had developed and the operation disclosed the fact that the disease had progressed too far for relief and death occurred, as above.

The little girl, who was an exceptionally bright lovable child, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Uncles of Riverview. She leaves to mourn her death her parents, two sisters and four brothers who have the sympathy of all in their sad bereavement.

The funeral will occur Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, services being held in Centre M. E. church with interment in Centre cemetery.

CLEARFIELD, PENNSYLVANIA, TUESDAY EVENING, AUGUST, 7, 1917

TIME TABLE WAS MISLEADING TO
PATRONSMixed Train Not Taken Off The River Line As Was Stated
By Counsel For Company

SERVICE STILL UNIMPROVED

We want to take back the good things we said Saturday concerning the New York Central management. They were undeserved because the person or persons responsible for trains and train schedules on the Pennsylvania division are doing and have done but few things recently that would or should commend them to right-thinking people.

When their attorney appeared in the Progress office Saturday with a schedule or time table to be posted for public information, we believed and we think he believed that the time table was telling the truth and really represented that the management had decided to rectify the error they made when they took the River Line passenger train out of service and put in its stead a "mixed train."

When Monday morning arrived and thirty-seven passengers presented themselves at the local station to take the River Line passenger train the same old "Kaiser's special" or mixed train rolled into the station and departed with its load of human freight and possibly gasoline and dynamite enough ahead of them to blow or broil them into kingdom come.

Taking advantage of the necessities of the nation due to war, the New York Central which has long awaited the opportunity, ripped passenger trains right and left and as a result a wall is going up all along the line, because the people made to suffer realize that the drastic disruption of passenger traffic is not due in the slightest measure to patriotic motives, but to their inordinate greed for gain. Nowhere on their lines is this more apparent than on the River Line.

The putting on of the mixed train does not save a single traincrew because the regular freight crew is necessary to handle the freight and coal business and consequently there can be saving of train crews incident to the change. But the substituting of the mixed train adds greatly to the earning capacity of the road while it adds almost unlimited danger to life and limb to the passenger forced to travel on this train. The reason for hooking a car or two of freight in front of the two passenger coaches on this mixed train is not to afford better freight service to the down river people. Oh, no. As these people understand the N. Y. C. the matter of proper service is farthest from their thoughts. Here is the milk in the coconut. With a straight passenger train American railway rules provide that the passenger must have a clear block. For instance before the passenger train may leave a station, any train preceding it must have cleared the block ahead or in common parlance reached a side track or layover, in order to insure safety to the passengers traveling the intervening distance. The same is true of a train following it. In case the train preceding could not clear the block or a given side track or passing point, then it would have to lay up until the passenger train ran by before continuing its journey. As we said before this wise precaution is taken to avoid possible collisions and attendant loss of life.

With the mixed train this is different. Passengers are not supposed to ride on one if they can get away from it, and never do, except on the River Line where no other is available. The "mixed train" is regarded as a freight train and the human freight is regarded as just "freight" and a freight or coal train is allowed to and does cut in around them at every opportunity. Of course, as inevitably happens, a freight train will endeavor to pass it upon the same track and the Conductor will then be asked to place the blame on the engineer who missed his signals. That has been the history of all mixed trains, and we very much fear, with the enormous traffic on the River line, soon to be augmented by the large tonnage to be received from the C. & I. via Cherrytree, will be the sad lesson of the River Line.

MARINES GOING

IN TRENCHESThose Who Landed in France
Being Put Through Training
With Gas Masks

"STARVING FOR TOBACCO"

By J. P. Pegler

At American army Headquarters in France, Aug. 7.—American marines are going to be shelled. French and not German guns will hurl projectiles upon the soldiers of the sea. Digouts are being constructed today in which the marines will be ensconced and then the French will shell them from a hill. It will be a "practice bombardment" and part of the preliminary training. After the marines and Sammies have been shelled upon they will be "dead." American gas experts have arrived and will superintend the "gassing" of the Sammies. After donning gas masks they will enter chambers charged with gas and remain for a considerable time so as to become accustomed to the gas the Germans will let loose on them later.

Among the blue helmeted marines standing shoulder deep in a trench on the top of a sun scorched hill an American general personally tested the rifles and grenades today. From a distance of 100 yards I watched marines toss grenades in practice work. And in the distance I could hear a rumbling noise like that of artillery fire. Another battalion was practicing grenade work there, an officer said.

Lunching and talking with the Sammies it was quickly learned that they are "still starving" for tobacco. Some of the boys have frequently paid $1 for a pack of cigarettes and have paid $1 a bag for tobacco for "making."

Four Prisoners Got
Away From RockviewRed Davis, Former Ball Player, Here
On Search For Them

Three prisoners escaped from the western penitentiary at Rockview, near Bellefonte, Friday last, and one also took French leave yesterday afternoon. The three first to get away were Americans and had been sent up from Beaver and Butler counties. The one who escaped yesterday was an Italian.

Messrs. E. R. Schraum and Elmer Davis, officers from the penitentiary, were in Clearfield last night on the lookout for the men. They had followed the thorough Centre county but lost track of them at the Summit, near Sandy Ridge.

They were thought to be heading this way but the officers with the assistance of Sheriff McCloskey and the local police, were unable to locate them.

Davis, who is the electrician in charge of the operation of the electric chair at the "pen," is an old time Clearfield ball player, having come over here from Punxsy and helped Manager Beamer's team out several times back in 1900. He is a rabid baseball bug yet and found time to say hello to several old friends while here.

Mrs. C. C. McGaughey, Miss Buelah McCordle, Mrs. H. F. Ferguson and son Robert left this morning in Mrs. McGaughey's car for Syracuse, N. Y. to visit David Ferguson, who is a member of Co. L, 49th Inf.

American Battleship In Smoke Screen to Hide From U-Boats

The ships of the Atlantic Fleet, which have been mobilized since the declaration of the war, have begun to use the smoke screen, developed some months ago in England, to hide them from submarines. This photograph shows a big ship of the fleet throwing out the soft smoke so a submarine would find it impossible to locate her.

MAN KILLED WIFE

AT DUBOISJealousy Believed to Have Been
Cause of Tragedy Which Ends
a Long Standing Quarrel

HOMEWRECKER IS MENTIONED

William Sloppy, a well-known resident of Dubois, instantly killed his wife and inflicted a wound upon himself that resulted in his death a few minutes afterward. The double tragedy occurred at the Sloppy home at 123 Park avenue shortly before 10 o'clock last night. As far as could be ascertained by the investigation that followed there was no reason for the crime. It is believed, however, that the dead man had been jealous of his wife and determined to shoot her. Undoubtedly he had made up his mind to shoot her and also kill himself as neighbors state that there was no hesitation between the three.

The following letter was found on the dead man:

"... is the man that broke up my home. I am tired of life. I am saying goodbye to my children. I am going to take her with me. He has a good wife and I don't want to hurt her. Good-bye to everyone."

W. A. SLOPPY.

shots that they heard. The one shot killed Mrs. Sloppy instantly and either of the two shots that Mr. Sloppy fired into his head would have resulted in his death. It is stated that the dead man had been drinking during the afternoon, but everyone united in stating that he was not intoxicated. People who talked with him an hour before the tragedy stated that he did not appear to be excited, neither was he intoxicated and gave no intimation of the terrible deed that he was contemplating. Mr. Sloppy had not been living with his wife for several weeks. Last evening Mrs. Sloppy was sitting on the front porch of her home, talking to Mrs. James Hilton, a nearby neighbor. While the two were sitting there Mr. Sloppy came from East Park avenue evidently having come down Church. He walked past Mrs. Sloppy sitting on the porch, but did not speak. Shortly after he came Mrs. Sloppy said to Mrs. Hilton that Mrs. Sloppy said to Mrs. Hilton that she was going in and put on her shoes and would then go down town to look for her daughter, Adeline. She went into the house and very shortly afterwards Mrs. Hilton heard three shots and screams from Mrs. Sloppy.

Frank Waite, who lives next door on the west side, stated that he heard three shots in the Sloppy home. He also heard Mrs. Sloppy screaming and could not distinguish the words. He heard something like two bodies falling. He opened the door and saw the body of Mrs. Sloppy on the floor. He at once

OBJECT LESSON FOR THE U. S.

By William Philip Simms.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
With the British "Armies in the Field, July 10.—By Mail.—There's a lesson to the United States not to make haste too precipitately, in recent air battles here. The structural defects of German aircraft have been strongly illustrated of late. They were of machines hurriedly built as a result of Germany's "speeding up" of aeroplane construction. Now that America is going to hustle up and build great fleets of such craft she will do well to note some of the results of too much speed and not enough precaution.

In one week recently seven German planes were seen literally to break up in the air, the pilots and observers being hurled to the earth below. These accidents were unmistakably the result of faulty construction. Two other Prussian biplanes suddenly burst into flames in the view of British fighters—for no accountable reason.

Moreover, the new German planes are exceedingly vulnerable, probably due to faulty material and rush work. One British lieutenant the other day fired 40 rounds at 25 yards range and broke the German's wings clean off. Another British fighter turned his machine gun fire at the tail of one of fifteen Prussian machines, from a distance of 60 yards. The Boche's tail slid clear off and the machine crashed to earth.

On the same day as this last incident, five British flyers attacked a fleet of Albatross scouts among the clouds. The fighters got separated shortly in the fleecy clouds and then it was every man for himself. One British captain, after driving off three Germans hit in a cloud and awaited the fourth, whom he saw approaching. At the correct moment, the Britisher dived out, got below his enemy, and fired 58 shots. He broke the German plane completely in two.

On the following day a British air-fighter, battling with nine planes, broke one into several pieces with a few shots, and then saw two other of his enemies burst into flames. One fell, like a comet, the second burned slowly. On this second one the pilot, unable to bear the agony of the fire, leaped out. The observer, left with a pilotless machine, crawled out along the fuselage, but fell off as the plane reared and plunged.

Once again, six British flyers attacked twelve enemy planes. One of the German machines burst into flames. One fell, like a comet, the second burned slowly. On this second one the pilot, unable to bear the agony of the fire, leaped out. The observer, left with a pilotless ma-

BORO. SCHOOLS

SEPT. 4Vaccination Required and Should

Term And In Plenty of Time

EXAMINATIONS AUGUST 27TH

The Public Schools of Clearfield will begin for the school year 1917-1918 Tuesday, September 4th.

The law requires all pupils who attend the public school to have been successfully vaccinated. Pupils who expect to attend the public school this year and have not been successfully vaccinated should be vaccinated at once. It is neither fair to the child nor the school to have the child experience the inconvenience incident to vaccination at the same time they are becoming accustomed to the new and changed conditions of school life. A child's first experience in school should be under the most favorable conditions.

Children who will be six years old before March 1st will be admitted September 4th. It is a decided disadvantage to the child to have it admitted for the first time after the holidays.

The 1st Grade for the 1st and 2nd Wards will be located in the Junior High School Building. (Old High School Building.)

An examination will be conducted in the High School Building, Friday, August 31st, 8:30 a.m., for pupils desiring credit for advanced work, for pupils who wish credit for "make up work" and for boys and girls who do not live in Clearfield and who expect to enter the High School this year. All persons expecting to take an examination at this time must advise the superintendent not later than Monday, Aug. 27th. Make known your intention by postal.

A county diploma will not admit pupils to the Clearfield High School. A-7, 14.

chine, crawled out along the fuselage, but fell off as the plane reared and plunged.

Once again, six British flyers attacked twelve enemy planes. One of the German machines burst into flames, one was crumpled by gunfire, and another just simply collapsed after 18 rounds of fire.

The moral is that Americans will need the best machines and their best men against the Germans. Even then it would be foolhardy to expect a walkover.

Right now the German high command is grouping his flyers, aware of the British aerial supremacy, just as a year ago he grouped artillery into traveling "circuses." The idea is that since the Germans are unable to maintain equality to the air everywhere along the front, they can concentrate a flying "circus" at some weak spot or at some place in the line which is threatened.

WILSON SPEEDS UP THE FEDERAL
TRADE BODYWants More Speed In Fixing
Prices To Be Charged For Necessities For Allies

DROPS IN ON BOARD MEETING

(By United Press)

Washington, August 7.—President Wilson today urged the Federal Trade commission to speed up upon determining the cost upon which the government is to fix prices on raw material. The President declared the allies are not to be gouged in war purchases. Steel, iron, coke, tin, copper, aluminum, lead, lumber, cement and petroleum await investigation of the commission. The President walked into the commission's office in the White House during a board meeting. In reply to the question as to the speed of the Trade Commission's investigation he was told that the work was going along rapidly and that the copper report would be ready within two weeks. He then went to the Justice department where he conferred with Attorney General Gregory. It is understood that the question of the government's investigation of the recent steel trust was discussed. The present need of supplies by the allies was evidenced in an order transmitted by Secretary Daniels through Secretary Redfield today calling upon all European ships leaving the United States ports on round trips to European ports to purchase sufficient supplies in this country for the return voyage. It was stated the purpose of the order was to save the warring countries all necessary supplies. The Senate was bitterly attacked by John Sharp Williams today when he said "anti-Americans of a small group" are holding up the food bill. "This gab fest amounts to nothing," Sharp declared.

In their investigations the allies discovered a naval intelligence net of the waters surrounding the British Isles and the North Sea. The net was a small square, each one numbered. An elaborate code was also found for use in conjunction with this map.

Messages based on this code, after apparently reading like private telegrams, could in reality be deciphered into accurate descriptions of Allied warships or of belligerent or neutral merchantmen.

From the spy headquarters in Gothenburg, agents were sent to Scandinavian ports and attempts were made whether successful or not, to get them into England. These agents were supplied with the code and map mentioned and were reporting to headquarters in Gothenburg. The headquarters in Gothenburg communicated the information to German submarines at sea, probably by wireless stations hidden along the coast. One of the chief branches of the Gothenburg office was in Christiania and a Norwegian was actually engaged there to go to England on the espionage service, being supplied with the code and map in return for a process of invisible ink writing for mail reports. Another branch was in Malmo, Sweden. It is believed that many of the agents of the German spies in Gothenburg were Scandinavians. At about the same time of the discovery of the Gothenburg office, a German giving the name of Klein was arrested in Sweden, charged with a plot to murder British Ambassador Buchanan in Petrograd. Klein was afterward released but deported from Sweden.

Important Arrest Made at Osceola on FridayCapture Man Who is Accused of Stealing Cattle From Pastures

Honore or "Hod" Heeman, one of the notorious Heeman family, was arrested at his home near Osceola by County Detective Jeffrey on Friday last charged with stealing two cows from the vicinity of Houtzdale.

It is said that a gang of cattle stealers, of which Heeman is alleged to have been the leader, have been operating in the Houtzdale region all summer and during that time ten or a dozen valuable cows have disappeared.

About May 30th a cow belonging to Charles Freeberg, valued at $80, and another valued at $60 the property of A. J. Johnson, was taken from the commons where they were pastured and driven from there across the mountain to Altoona where they were disposed of. The cows were traced to Altoona by the County Detective who learned that a man answering to Heeman's description had disposed of them and his arrest followed. The information was made before "Squire Scollins of Houtzdale."

It is said that there are three other men in the gang of cattle rustlers, one of whom is a negro, and their arrests are expected at any minute although they have been missing from their accustomed haunts for some time.

CHRISTIAN SCHNEIDER BURNED TO DEATH

The man who lost his life when his coal bank shanty was destroyed by fire at Heverly, near Coalport, at an early hour yesterday morning, was named Christian Schneider and he was 52 years of age.

It was said that he had been drinking heavily the night before and at 2 o'clock in the morning a neighbor, noticing the shanty to be on fire, went to the scene and broke down the door, but was driven back by the flames before he could make any effort to rescue the occupant, and his body was totally consumed.

No suspicion of fool play was entertained and the coroner's verdict said accidental death.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Stockholm, July 11.—(By Mail)—Allied secret service and intelligence officers, with the cooperation of the police of the Scandinavian countries, have recently uncovered a spy net operating in Sweden.

In their investigations the allies discovered a naval intelligence net of the waters surrounding the British Isles and the North Sea. The net was a small square, each one numbered. An elaborate code was also found for use in conjunction with this map.

One of the chief branches of the Gothenburg office was in Christiania and a Norwegian was actually engaged there to go to England on the espionage service, being supplied with the code and map in return for a process of invisible ink writing for mail reports. Another branch was in Malmo, Sweden. It is believed that many of the agents of the German spies in Gothenburg were Scandinavians. At about the same time of the discovery of the Gothenburg office, a German giving the name of Klein was arrested in Sweden, charged with a plot to murder British Ambassador Buchanan in Petrograd. Klein was afterward released but deported from Sweden.

MISS RANKIN INTRODUCES

Washington, Aug. 7.—A joint resolution authorizing the President to take over and operate the metal mines was introduced in the House today by Miss Jeannette Rankin. The resolution particularly applies to the mines in Arizona, Montana and Idaho. These mines are not being operated to the capacity they should be to meet the demands of the war. The laborers and the mine owners cannot agree.

Believe Fates Brought Recent Cabinet ChangeGerman People Disillusioned With The New Imperial Cabinet

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

By John Grandson

Berlin, Aug. 7.—Open dissatisfaction with the new cabinet was expressed by the liberal press today. The Tageblatt declared that the people had been given no choice in the new government.

The representatives of the people had no influence in the cabinet appointment, the Tageblatt declared. Germans received the new government as a gift from above. The great German people have no direct or indirect influence in the selection of their managers. They have no power and no responsibility. They are exposed to the strokes of fate.

GOING UP!

A mile in twenty-five seconds! An automobile of two hundred and sixty-five horsepower, with flying machine engine, went at that rate of speed—about one hundred and thirty miles an hour. Human beings now living will travel in the air at the rate of one thousand miles an hour, going around the earth in one day and one night, with the sun always above their heads. Dutiful sons will leave the office to lunch with mother, five hundred miles away, and return to work.

Six miles up in the air there are no storms and a gentle wind always blows toward the east. Up there will be the road of future travel.—(Selected.)

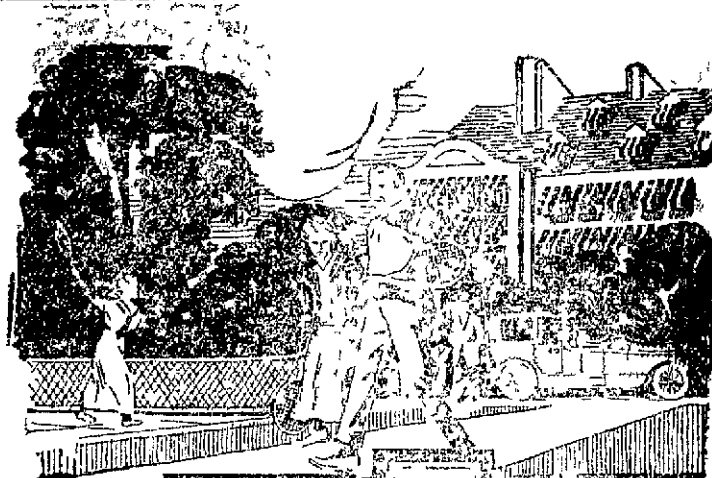

Will the editor of the DuBois Courier kindly keep his coat on? It is true that we take unusual delight in teasing anybody who gets a little ruffled during the process. No one can deny that "cold feet" is a large factor in exemption claims and is a physical disability which deserves to be called by its right name. We do not believe there is any more of it in DuBois than in any other district and the Courier may be right in its guess that there will be more of it in Clearfield than there has been in DuBois. Now as for the "sob stuff" part of the story. That part about wives and children of drafted men going to DuBois with their husbands and fathers, this information came to us from one of the most representative citizens of DuBois and was recited before a large audience in the Clearfield Court House.

SCRAPPED

Dr. Batocki, the wizard who, we have been told, was controlling the German food supplies in such effective manner that if everybody was not satisfied all were nourished at least, has been cast aside along with Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, foreign secretary, whose blundering has been the worst exhibition of German statesmanship during the war, and seven other ministers and secretaries. Evidently things are not going well for the Mittelluropa schemers. Serviceable cogs and wheels are not scrapped. So the official announcement of the resignations of this considerable number of subordinates in the imperial machine is notice that Berlin finds it necessary to do better or lose all. Zimmerman, of course, was sure to go since exposure of his bungling the Mexico-Japan project of madness. Batocki was led to the top of the toboggan some days ago. As a wonder worker he was not a success, which may not be and probably is not his fault at all. Appointed ministers may propose big crops but a Higher Power determines what the harvest shall be. If there is not food to conserve, mortal man cannot conserve it. Batocki has not succeeded in feeding the German people, unquestionably because there is not sufficient wherewith to feed them.

As to most of the offices vacated, they have no connection with the international situation. The administrative functions of their occupants are domestic. The clean-up no doubt is a part of the scheme of "reform" with which the Kaiser and the Chancellor hope to beguile the German people to bear a while longer with the hopeless war. It will be represented that the changes are in response to the demand for closer relations between crown and people and indicate the Emperor's yielding. For a time clamorings may be stilled. But if the system is not changed there is no virtue in a change of men. Perhaps the men scrapped were no longer acceptable to the Kaiser, because not in complete harmony with the war party. If that is so, their successors will assuredly not be in accord with the people who disapprove what is being done and what is sought to be gained by the war. Then there will be no gain for the people and clamorings will break out afresh. But there is no reason to believe that will disturb the Kaiser. His people have not yet sensed the duty before them if they would have peace without victory, which latter they cannot have. When they comprehend the truth they will be in the scrapping and it is the Kaiser and his gang that will go into the junk pile.

telephoned the Logan House. Roy Sloppy, aged 18 years, a son, was at the Logan House and he turned home. He found the bodies of his parents lying on the floor in the parlor. His mother was lying with her feet partly out in the hallway, while his father's body was only a few feet away. He, Roy, who had been summoned, came about the same time. He found that Mrs. Sloppy was dead and that Mr. Sloppy was just breathing his last. He was unconscious and of course made no statement.

The Sloppy family has resided in DuBois for many years. Mrs. Sloppy was formerly Bessie Boring. Until recently it was not known that they had any trouble. Neighbors stated that Mrs. Sloppy was a hard working woman and only yesterday had done three washings. They have three children, two sons and one daughter. The older boy, Raymond, is in the navy. Roy, aged 18 years, is at home. He was present last evening and sobbed pitifully as he lay beside his dead mother. The daughter is fifteen years of age.

Gov. Hanley Received Fine Support Here

Audience Which Attended His Talk Gave Him Over $100 To Work On

When Governor Hanley of Indiana was here on June 14th in the interest of the Flying Squadron there was a collection taken from the audience present to help carry on the work of state and national prohibition. Those who were present at that meeting will be surprised to know that the results of the collection taken were as follows:

Cash $154.48
Pledges $270.30
A total of $130.78 from that one audience

The general secretary has written a letter to R. M. Corbett, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. requesting him to publicly thank the people of Clearfield for their generous support.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat which clogs Kidneys, then the Back hurts

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally. Also we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

10 NEW MINISTERS NAMED BY KAISER

Calling of Kuehlmann to Foreign Office Only Sign of Change of Policy

Berlin, Aug. 6.—Dr. Richard von Kuehlmann, German ambassador to Turkey, has been appointed secretary of foreign affairs in succession to Dr. Alfred Zimmermann.

Altogether five imperial ministers and five Prussian ministers have resigned. The changes in the Imperial ministry additional to the appointment of Doctor von Kuehlmann are as follows:

Privy Councillor von Krause appointed Secretary of Justice to succeed Doctor Lisso.

Herr Duellin, minister of posts and director of railways, to succeed Herr Kraetke.

Oberräsident von Walldow president of food regulation board, to succeed Arnold Wahschaff.

The ministry of economics will ultimately be separated from the ministry of the interior and Herr Walldorf, Mayor of Cologne will be appointed minister of the interior and Herr Schwander, Mayor of Strassburg, minister of economics, with the titles of excellency.

Dr. Karl von Helldorf will remain Vice-Chancellor and serve as a member of the ministry of state and temporary minister of the interior.

Doctor Richter, under secretary of the Imperial home office also resigned his post.

The following changes in the royal Prussian Ministry have been made:

Under Secretary Drews is appointed Minister of the Interior, to succeed Herr von Loebell, who has held office since 1914.

Doctor Kertz is appointed minister of finance, to succeed Doctor Lentze.

Dr. Essen-Hartrath succeeds as minister of Ecclesiastical affairs and instruction succeeding Doctor von Trost Zu Solz, who was appointed in 1909.

GOMPERTS SAYS LABOR MUST BEAT GERMANS

Should Help Government Crush or Compel Surrender of Kaiserism He Asserts

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 6.—"The working people of Germany are doing all that they can to help their government to win the war. The working people of this country should do the same to help their government."

This assertion was made by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who spent a short time in Wilmington today after having motored from Washington for a brief rest. In telling why American labor people would send no delegates to Stockholm he said:

"It is impractical and positively injurious for any conference of the representatives of labor to be held in which delegates from all countries would be present. As I said in my cable to Johann and Appleton, something more favorable must develop before such a conference is practical. I had in mind that the Kaiser and Prussianism must be crushed, or that Kaiserism and Prussianism should surrender to the democracy and the civilization of the world."

RANKS OPENED TO THE FRIENDLY NON-CITIZENS

First Papers Not Necessary for Qualification, Crowder Says

Washington, Aug. 6.—The ranks of the new National Army were opened formally today to friendly aliens as volunteers. A ruling by Provost Marshal Gen. Crowder communicated to the local selection boards directs that all such aliens who waive their rights of exemption of nationality be promptly accepted for service.

Gen. Crowder sent this telegram to the governors:

"Reports reaching this office recently indicate that in some quarters the belief prevails that friendly aliens who have not declared their intention to become citizens, but are ready and willing to serve are disqualified from entering the military service of the United States and therefore that they must take out first papers before they can be accepted. It is to be regretted that such a misunderstanding should have arisen. The qualifications for voluntary enlistment in time of war are no more restricted for service in the new National Army than for the regular army."

Wagon Loaders to Have Their Inning Tomorrow

Local Men to Attend Hearing at The National Capital

Johnstown, Aug. 6.—When the delegation representing the Pennsylvania Wagon Coal Shippers' Association appears in Washington Wednesday to voice to Secretary Baker its protest against a threatened cutting off of the car supply to those loading from wagons, a array of figures will be presented that will be interesting to say the least, and will show the number of mine operations, men employed, production and valuation represented by industries of this nature, together with the percentage of total coal produced, hauled from mine to siding and loaded on cars, the cost of such loading and the time required to fill a car. But the principal item of interest will be the testimony presented before the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission for a fair car service and the testimony to Attorney Charles C. Greer of this city at a recent hearing in Washington before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce, when Mr. Greer, as a voluntary witness, refuted the evidence of a Federal expert and others as to time consumed in the wagon-loading of coal cars for that purpose.

Those who will go to Washington tomorrow to make the appeal to Secretary Baker are: President, D. W. Anderson, Clearfield; treasurer, J. W. Rankin, Clymer; M. Lee Titus, Point Marion; attorney, A. M. Liveright, Clearfield; secretary, Charles C. Greer, Johnstown, and Attorney James M. Bacon, Greensburg.

Girls! Use Lemons! Make a Bleaching, Beautifying Cream

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon pulp through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier. Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is simply marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.

Alleged Dead Body Cannot Be Located

Coalport Agitated Over Alleged Discovery of Dead Man in Woods

There has been considerable excitement or speculation in the Coalport neighborhood the past week over the finding or alleged finding of a dead man in a piece of woodland adjacent to the town. The story goes that on Wednesday of last week, two boys who went out picking huckleberries ran onto the dead body of a man in the woods. The body was lying on a large rock and from the brief examination of the boys appeared to be that of a one armed man.

The boys hurried breathlessly to town and notified the authorities of their gruesome discovery.

Undertaker Gordon called up the district attorney and County Coroner Pollum and presented the case to them. He was advised to go out, get the body and make investigation as to the surroundings and circumstances. Mr. Gordon rounded up a crew of about one dozen men and started for the body. They searched for hours but were unable to locate the alleged corpse, the boys trying again and again to locate the spot of their alleged discovery.

After wasting the better part of a day in the search the men were compelled to return without having accomplished the object of their search. Since that time there have been almost daily excursions into the woods but thus far the corpus delicti refuses to be discovered and the village gossip is unable to decide whether it was a murder, suicide or just plain giving up the ghost.

Clearfield Marine Has Landed In France

Bulletin From Marine Corps Recalls Enlistment of John Shade

Among the "First to Fight" Marines who have gone to France is John L. Shade, a Private of the Headquarters Company, U. S. M. C., according to records just made public.

Private Shade, who is the son of Mrs. J. Shade, 515 Fifth street, Clearfield, and whom many of our readers are acquainted with, enlisted in the United States Marine Corps at its Cleveland, Ohio recruiting station April 30, 1917.

He has displayed such marked ability and daring that he was among the first to be chosen to "do his bit" over seas. The Marines who have been selected to represent their country first in the war for democracy are proud of the recognition bestowed upon them and they go with the best wishes of the entire nation.

Our readers may well be proud of the local boy and wish him the best of success as a U. S. Marine—one who is willing to die, if necessary, to uphold the honor of his home and country.

"IT SAVED MY LIFE" SHE SAYS

Pittsburg Woman Now Attributes Her Recovery To Master Medicine

"This Tanlac has relieved me of that dreadful catarrh," said Mrs. Florence Bennett, residing at 429 Atwood street, Pittsburg, Pa., recently, "and now I feel like an entirely new woman. I had catarrh of the stomach and head. My head was all stopped up, feeling full and sore most of the time. I am certain that I swallowed the accumulations in my throat when I slept at night, as I never had any appetite for breakfast."

"I was in a terribly debilitated condition, too. It seemed that I had almost no blood circulation. I suffered intensely from headaches and my sleep never was sound and restful. I was nervous and languid and lacked energy."

"My head became clearer and I noticed that my catarrh was fast disappearing. My appetite became so ravenous that it was difficult to satisfy it. I began sleeping peacefully and my sleep is now restful and beneficial. I have gained strength and weight rapidly. My headaches have gone, and the circulation of my blood is now normal."

Tanlac is now sold here by Woodward & McPherson.

Battle Front Train of Kaiser Is Protected

Heavily Sheathed With Armor And Equipped With Every Luxury

Amsterdam, Aug. 7.—While the German imperial family is reported to have made great sacrifices in their mode of living on account of the war, the Kaiser certainly has abandoned none of the luxuries associated with his high station when he is on his travels. The special train in which he makes his hurried visits from the Grand headquarters to Berlin or to his conferences in Vienna is one of the most sumptuous imaginable. The train consists of six coaches, each weighing over sixty tons. Four coaches are reserved for the Kaiser and his suite, and the other two are used for kitchens. The second coach in the train is the one reserved by the Kaiser for his personal quarters, and it contains a salon, bedroom, dressing room, bath room, and sleeping apartments for his body guard. The windows of this coach are protected by thick steel bars, and armed sentries stand at the doors night and day. The roof is sheathed in heavy steel armor as a protection against bombs that might be dropped by daring aviators of the enemy.

Across The Continent In A Little Old Ford

From Tacoma Wash., to Clearfield, Pa., in Fine Shape

Ernest Miller and his family left Monday for their faraway home in Tacoma, Washington, after having spent a pleasant three weeks vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eory Miller in Paradise.

The Millers made the trip across the continent in a Ford car leaving home on June 6th. They visited the Yellowstone National Park and enjoyed the long trip immensely.

While going through Yellowstone Park they had the misfortune to lose a brand new tire, but just before coming out of the state of Idaho found a new tire, rim and all, in the road and as they could not locate the owner along their route brought their find along to Clearfield and swapped it here for one to fit their machine.

The "Tin Lizzie" stood up remarkably well under the strain of the long trip, the only thing being required for the return journey being a set of new tires.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Selfridge of Los Angeles, California, arrived in Clearfield August 2 to visit their friends and relatives. They have made their home in the far west the past four years. Mr. Selfridge is a brother of Mrs. Perry Rishel of Elymptonville.

Mr. Oscar W. Schaeffer and three sons, of Galesburg, Illinois, arrived in Clearfield this morning and will be the guests of her parents, Prof. and Mrs. J. Clark Thayer at the Susquehanna College of Music for some time.

Camp Fire girls in the United States now number more than 100,000.

NEWS OF THE MOVIES

"WORLD AGAINST HIM"

At the Globe Theatre Tomorrow
You have three guesses as to what breed these doggies are. Nope, you're wrong. Wrong again! Wrong the third time!

"They are Siberian dachshunds," said Miss Elvidge, when asked to give her opinion about the matter.

"I'll be winning to put up a small wager that they are some kind of brand of animated fur muff," declared Frank Hall Crane, who directed "The World Against Him."

"They are a new species of the well known fuzzy-wuzzy, or long-haired pug dogs," insisted the World Film publicity man.

"You're all wrong!" yelled an "extra" managing to make himself heard above the din. "They're fox terriers what have been tarred and feathered."

"What kind of dogs are they, anyhow, Mr. Lincoln?"

"I'll tell you" responded Lincoln cheerfully. "They're chow dogs with pedigrees."

DELIGHTFULLY ENTERTAINED

Miss Josephine Tonner entertained at bridge and sewing yesterday afternoon at her home on Locust street in honor of Miss Mary Stone of Roanoke, Va., and Miss Valeria Clymer of Reigelsville, who are the guests of Miss Margaret Wrigley.

Six tables were utilized in playing progressive bridge, while ten other guests spent a most delightful afternoon sewing. Miss Helen Duffon held high bridge score and was presented with a lovely quilt pen. Delicious refreshments were served.

RIVERVIEW GIRL DEAD

Little Florence Uncles, aged 12 years, of Riverview, passed away at the Clearfield hospital at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, following an operation for a diseased limb.

Some time ago the little girl bruised her limb and as the injury did not respond to treatment she was taken to the hospital Monday afternoon when it was discovered the only hope of saving her life lie in an operation.

Sarcoma had developed and the operation disclosed the fact that the disease had progressed too far for relief and death occurred, as above.

The little girl, who was an exceptionally bright lovable child, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Uncles of Riverview. She leaves to mourn her death her parents, two sisters and four brothers who have the sympathy of all in their sad bereavement.

The funeral will occur Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, services being held in Centre M. E. church with interment in Centre cemetery.
